Year 11 Investigating Subject Days

Dear colleague,

We are writing to you about an event for Year 11 students which might be of interest. We have just opened applications for our Investigating Options Subject Day covering Medicine, Humanities, and Social Sciences. These events will take place in Oxford, and are designed for gifted and talented Year 11 students who would like to learn more about university, subject options, and Oxford itself. A synopsis and link to sample programmes are here:

Investigating Medicine Sample Program

The Investigating Medicine Day will be held on Saturday 1 July. It will include information on making a competitive application for Medicine, career paths, and the opportunities available through studying related courses, as well as academic taster sessions in Medicine and related subjects.

Investigating Humanities Sample Program

The Investigating Humanities Day will be held on Saturday 8 July. It will include information on the different Humanities courses available and career paths. Students will take part in taster lectures and seminars, and will have the chance to experience a mock Oxford tutorial.

Investigating Social Sciences Sample Program

The Investigating Social Sciences Day will be held on Saturday 15 July. It will include information on the different Social Science courses available and career paths. Students will take part in taster lectures and seminars, and will have the chance to experience a mock Oxford tutorial.

The events are free of charge, applications are made by students, and we ask that they nominate a teacher at their school to support their application.

The application form is available here: Year 11 Investigating Options Subject Days 2017. The deadline for applications is 12 Noon on Wednesday 31st May.
